

Joseph Rodman Drake Park: A view of the park prior to improvements made by the City of New York. It was formerly the Hunt family graveyard in the town of West Farms, Westchester County and was located on the north side of the old Hunts Point Road. The southern boundary of the park marks the course of the road at that point. In the fenced-in circular plot, on the left, is the grave and tombstone of Joseph Rodman Drake; noted American poet.

1926.

Brown Brothers.
NO REPRODUCTIONS.