

POLICEMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Oscar Dunn Found Dead in His Home, Bullet in Head.
Oscar Dunn, a patrolman attached to the 76th Precinct, shot himself in the forehead with his service revolver in the basement of his home at No. 1129 40th Street, Brooklyn, this morning. He died almost instantly. Dunn had been brought up before Magistrate McCloskey yesterday on charges of assault growing out of the arrest of Harry Irving of No. 258 55th Street, Brooklyn, following a raid on a crap game recently. Irving charged he was beaten before being taken to the police station by Dunn. Magistrate McCloskey has adjourned the hearing until Thursday.

35 PASSENGERS
DETAINED HERE
ON LA TOURAINE

Four Descendants of Ponce de Leon Among Those on Board.

Science, in the opinion of thirty-five passengers marooned since yesterday on the steamship La Touraine at the foot of West 44th Street in the North River, is a false alarm. Anything is a false alarm, in the opinion of the thirty-five detained passengers of La Touraine, short of some magic lamp which would bring before them pronto the adulated young clerk in the American Consulate in Paris who told them two weeks ago that the State Department's celebrated "Form No. 228" is no longer in use.

Because they had not filled out Form No. 228—a mere yellow slip of paper telling who you are, who your grandfather was, how many times you voted for Bryan and the names of your pastor, physician, grocer and favorite movie actor—the thirty-five were refused admission yesterday to the land of the free, home of the brave and paradise of the disturber.

The names of only four of the imprisoned passengers got ashore today, but inasmuch as one of the four is the wife of a former President of the Republic of Colombia, and inasmuch as all four are lineal descendants of Ponce de Leon, and have with them a fac simile of the great explorer's grant to the lands which are now the State of Florida, signed by the then King of Spain, one gathers that a certain clerk in the embassy at Paris is in for a fine dressing down.

The trouble began within a few minutes after the docking of Capt. Bordeaux's ship. The Colombian party is made up of Mrs. Teresa de Tanco, 58; Julie de Tanco, 32; Marie Louise de Tanco, 23, and Helene de Tanco, 17.

Mrs. de Tanco, besides being the wife of a former President, is the sister of the present Colombian Minister to England and a sister-in-law of the Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Spain.

Friends of the de Tancoes were waiting for them on the pier. Rooms had been reserved for them in one of New York's fashionable hotels. They got as far as the first immigration officer when it was discovered that they were without Form 228.

"Why, yes," Mrs. de Tanco said, "I remember the yellow slip perfectly but the young man in your American consulate at Paris took it from us and said something about it having 'gone out' or something. Said it was no longer necessary."

Until 31 other passengers had repeated the de Tanco story the immigration inspectors were polite but unimpressed. When they had been convinced that somebody in Paris had blundered they were unable to correct his error. The rules gives them no discretion.

American friends of the de Tancoes who came over with them immediately set about straightening out the tangle and within an hour the telephone wires to Washington were humming. A big Chicago manufacturer, it was said, left for the capital last night to "start something" at the State Department. Thirty-five angry passengers on La Touraine meanwhile made the best of things with the assistance of Capt. Bordeaux and his aids.

GOV. SMITH WANTS HEARST ANSWER TO CHALLENGE

Departs for Albany After Having Waited in Vain for a Reply.

Gov. Alfred E. Smith returned to Albany at noon today, after having waited in vain for a reply from Mr. Hearst to his challenge to the editor to meet him in public debate.

"I have not heard from Mr. Hearst," the Governor said before boarding his train. "I don't know whether he is going to accept my challenge. With regard to the public meeting in Carnegie Hall, I am not ready to say anything at present. I will wait a little longer on Mr. Hearst."

Hearst was assailed last night by Senator James A. Foley, Charles Murphy's son-in-law and Democratic candidate for Surrogate, at a meeting of the Thomas A. Williams Association, No. 262 West 99th Street. Mr. Foley said of the editor: "He is a renegade to democracy and disloyal to America," as proved by the "burning of his papers by indignant citizens in scores of up-State towns during the war."

Gov. Smith's challenge was made at the luncheon of the Women's Democratic League on Saturday. He challenged William R. Hearst to meet him on the platform, each man to ask any question he pleased as to the public or private life of the other.

ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL FLAG ARRIVAL HONORED

Ceremonies Held Throughout City for Emblem Enroute to Oyster Bay.

When the thirty Boy Scouts escorting the Roosevelt flag, being relayed from Buffalo to Oyster Bay, left the Manor House at Van Cortlandt Park this morning there were appropriate exercises and a procession down the Grand Concourse to the Theodore Roosevelt High School at Mott Avenue and 144th Street. Dr. William G. Haywood and the students met the flag with bared heads as it made the stop for the forty-third official star to be sewed on it. Twelve pupils recited quotations from Roosevelt's sayings on Americanism.

The next stop of the flag was at New York University where it was met by Chancellor E. E. Brown and escorted through the Hall of Fame by students. Bainbridge Colby eulogized the life of Roosevelt.

From there the flag was taken to Fordham University where Dean Father Tivnan had charge of the ceremony. Borough President Henry Bruckner received it at the Borough Hall, Bronx, and from there it went to Rodman Drake Park (Hunt Point), where exercises were held over Drake's grave.

Similar services were held over the grave of Gouverneur Morris at St. Ann's Avenue and 149th Street after which it was taken to 125th Street and the East River to go over to Long Island where an airplane awaited it to carry it to Long Island point and then to the Roosevelt grave at Oyster Bay.

13-YEAR-OLD GIRL TRIES TO BE A "MIKE GILHOOLEY"

Edna Gloster, Red Bank, N. J., Sent Home as Chronic Runaway by Court.

Thirteen-year-old Edna Gloster, who has become known as the "Mike Gilhooley of Red Bank, N. J.," has again been sent home, after another futile effort to taste the life of the city. She was brought to the West Forty-seventh Street station by Mrs. Emma Hopper, 257 West 48th Street.

Some time ago Mrs. Hopper found the girl on an elevated platform and took her home. She communicated with Edna's family and found she was a chronic runaway. Last week she received a letter in which Edna declared her intention of calling again.

Further communication showed that the Jersey girl, who was accompanied on this excursion by two-year-old Dorothy Wolf, a baby placed in charge of Edna's mother, was again a runaway. She was taken into custody by the Children's Society and arraigned in the Children's Court yesterday. She was placed in charge of an officer from Red Bank, who said he would take the wanderer to the Red Bank juvenile court.

Sound Sleep for the Baby

Why Careful Mothers Everywhere Show a Decided Preference for Simmons Cribs —Built for Sleep

WOMEN everywhere know the Simmons principle of beds built for sleep.

Thousands of them have been using Simmons Beds for years—and nothing but Simmons Beds.

The mere announcement by a merchant of Cribs built by Simmons of Kenosha, to the widely-known Simmons ideal of sleep—is enough to send mothers flocking to the stores in the interest of the baby's health and comfort.

THE Simmons principle is that one of the most important things in the world is plenty of sound, refreshing sleep.

This company was the first bed manufacturing concern to recognize this fact—and to do something about it in a practical way.

They know that a rattle or squeak in the bed tenses the nerves—even though the sleeper may not actually wake up.

There can be no sound sleep without complete repose—every nerve and muscle relaxed.

Hence their extreme care to have all the joints of their beds finished true and smooth—locking tight, without suspicion of noise or unsteadiness.

Hence, too, their years of work in perfecting Springs—doing away with the tendency to sag or hump or lose resiliency.

And their accurate squaring and fitting of Spring-frames—to prevent the spring from developing a knock or rattle against the bed.
